Notes to Financial Statements

(Unaudited)

1. Nature of Operations:

EmerGeo Solutions Worldwide Inc. (formerly Kavalmedia Services Ltd.) (“the Company”) was incorporated on October 16, 1997 under the laws of British Columbia. The Company is listed on the TSX Venture Exchange (the “Exchange”).

On May 2, 2008, the Company acquired all of the issued and outstanding share capital of EmerGeo Solutions Inc. (“EmerGeo Solutions”), a company which develops, integrates, sells and supports emergency management, environment health and safety, and security software solutions and services. EmerGeo Solutions’ own mapping software suite provides reliable, OpenGISR based mapping solutions that help government and industry to mitigate against, prepare for, respond to and recover from potential and actual incidents, natural disasters, acts of terrorism or other major events.

The Company changed its year end date to March 31 to coincide with that of EmerGeo Solutions. On August 1, 2008, the Company changed its name to EmerGeo Solutions Worldwide Inc..

The continuation of the Company as a going concern is dependent upon its ability to raise additional financing and ultimately attain and maintain profitable operations. To the extent the Company is unable to cover its ongoing cash requirements through operations, the Company expects to raise additional equity financing to cover any shortfall. There can be no assurance that such financing and profitability will occur in the amounts and with terms expected. These consolidated financial statements do not give effect to adjustments that would be necessary to the carrying value and classification of assets and liabilities should the Company be unable to continue as a going concern.

In the event that cash flow from operations, if any, together with the proceeds of any future financings are insufficient to meet the Company’s current operating expenses, the Company will be required to re-evaluate its planned expenditures and allocate its total resources in such a manner as the Board of Directors and management deems to be in the Company’s best interest. This may result in a substantial reduction of the scope of existing and planned operations.

2. Significant Accounting Policies:

(a) Basis of presentation and consolidation -

(i) Reverse takeover transaction -

On May 2, 2008, the Company acquired all of the issued and outstanding common shares of EmerGeo Solutions in exchange for common shares.

As the transaction was a capital transaction in substance for EmerGeo Solutions, the transaction was accounted for as a reverse takeover using the purchase method with EmerGeo Solutions as the acquirer.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued):

(a) Basis of presentation and consolidation - (continued)

(i) Reverse takeover transaction - (continued)

Application of reverse takeover accounting results in the following:

- a) The consolidated financial statements of the combined entity are issued under the name of the legal parent, the Company, but are considered a continuation of the financial statements of the legal subsidiary, EmerGeo Solutions.
- b) As EmerGeo Solutions is deemed to be the acquirer for accounting purposes, its assets and liabilities are included in the consolidated balance sheets for the continuing entity at their historical carrying values. The Company's assets and liabilities at the date of the transaction are included in the consolidated balance sheets at their estimated fair market value, which equaled their book value at the date of the transaction.

(ii) Consolidation -

These consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles. They include the accounts of the Company and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, EmerGeo Solutions, 0799998 BC Ltd. and EmerGeo Solutions (US) Inc.. All intercompany amounts and transactions have been eliminated on consolidation.

(b) Change in Accounting Policies -

Effective July 1, 2007, the Company adopted the provisions of the following new Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants ("CICA") accounting standards:

(i) Comprehensive Income (Section 1530) -

This section describes standards for reporting and disclosing comprehensive income, its components and related changes in equity. Comprehensive income includes net income as well as changes in equity during a period from transactions and events from non-owner sources, such as unrealized gains or losses on available-for-sale financial instruments. Adopting this standard has no impact on the Company's financial statements for the period ended September 30, 2008.

(ii) Financial Instruments - Recognition and Measurement (Section 3855) -

This section describes the standards for recognizing and measuring financial assets, financial liabilities and non-financial derivatives. Under the new standard, all financial instruments will be classified as one of the following: held-for-trading, held-to-maturity, loans and receivables, available-for-sale financial assets or other financial liabilities. The Company has implemented the following classifications:

- Cash is classified as held-for-trading. These financial instruments are measured at fair value. All gains and losses resulting from changes in their fair value are included in net earnings (loss) in the period in which they arise.
- Accounts receivable and advances to EmerGeo Solutions are classified as loans and receivables. After initial fair value measurement, they are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.
- Accounts payable and accrued liabilities, and due to shareholder are classified as other financial liabilities. After their initial fair value measurement, they are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest rate method.

(iii) Financial Instruments - Disclosure and Presentation (Section 3861) -

CICA Section 3861 sets out standards which address the presentation of financial instruments and non-financial derivatives, and identifies the related information that should be disclosed. These standards also revise the requirements for entities to provide accounting policy disclosures, including disclosure of the criteria for designating as held-for-trading those financial assets or liabilities that are not required to be classified as held-for-trading; whether categories of normal purchases and sales of financial assets are accounted for at trade date or settlement date; the accounting policy for transaction costs on financial assets and financial liabilities classified as other than held-for-trading; and provides several new requirements for disclosure about fair value.

(iv) Hedging (Section 3865) -

CICA Section 3865 specifies the circumstances under which hedge accounting is permissible and how hedge accounting may be performed. The Company currently does not hold any financial instruments designated for hedge accounting.

Effective April 1, 2008, the Company has adopted the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants three new accounting standards: Section 1535 – Capital Disclosures, Section 3862 – Financial Instruments – Disclosures and Section 3863 – Financial Instruments – Presentation.

Section 1535 specifies disclosure of:

- an entity's objectives, policies and processes for managing capital;
- quantitative data about what the entity regards as capital; and,
- whether the entity has complied with any capital requirements, and if it has not complied, the consequences of such non-compliance.

Disclosure for Section 1535 is provided in Note 10.

Section 3862 and 3863 replace the existing Section 3861, Financial Instruments – Disclosure and Presentation. The new sections revise and enhance the disclosure requirements, and carry forward unchanged existing presentation requirements. These new sections place increased emphasis on disclosure about the nature and extent of risks arising from financial instruments and how the entity manages risks. The Company's financial instruments are presented in Note 9.

The initial adoption of Sections 3862 and 3863 had no impact on the Company's consolidated results of financial position.

(c) Cash -

Cash consists of cash and funds in bank accounts integral to the Company's cash management.

(d) Equipment -

The assets are recorded at cost and amortized using straight line method based on the expected useful life. The normal annual rates are as follows:

Computer hardware	33%, 3 years
Computer software	50%, 2 years
Office furniture	20%, 5 years
Office equipment	33%, 3 years

When the net carrying amount of the equipment exceeds the estimated net recoverable amount, the asset is written down to its estimated fair value and a charge is recorded in the statement of operations.

2. Significant account policies: (Continued)

(e) Revenue recognition –

(i) License revenue -

The Company recognizes revenue in accordance with CICA Handbook 3400 (and EIC 141 and 142), “Revenue Recognition”. Revenue from the license of software is recognized when all of the following criteria have been met:

- a) persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists;
- b) the product has been delivered;
- c) the fees are fixed and determinable; and
- d) collection is reasonably assured.

The Company uses the residual method to recognize revenue on delivered elements when a license agreement includes one or more elements to be delivered at a future date if evidence of the stand-alone value of all undelivered elements exists. If an undelivered element for the arrangement exists under the license agreement, revenue related to the undelivered element is deferred based on vendor-specific objective evidence (“VSOE”) of the fair value of the undelivered element. The Company’s multiple element sales arrangements included arrangements where software licenses and the associated post contract customer support (“PCS”) are sold together. The Company has established VSOE of the fair value of the undelivered PCS element based on the price that is being charged to other customers for PCS on an individual basis when the customer renews this service on an annual basis. The renewed PCS is for services comparable to the bundled PCS and covers the same term.

(ii) Services revenue -

Service revenue consists of revenue from training, implementation and integration services and are set forth separately in the contractual arrangements such that the total price of the customer arrangement is expected to vary as a result of the inclusion or exclusion of those services. The Company does not consider the services to be essential to the functionality of any other element of the transaction. The Company determines VSOE of fair value for these services based on the price charged when these services are sold separately and revenue is then recognized in the period in which the services are performed.

(iii) Customer support and maintenance revenue -

Customer support and maintenance revenue consists of revenue derived from contracts to provide PCS to license holders. These revenues are recognized rateably over the period covered which is typically one year.

(e) Revenue recognition (Continued) –

(iv) Interest income

Interest income is recognized on an accrued basis as earned and other miscellaneous income is recognized as received.

(f) Cost of Revenue –

Cost of revenue is made up of costs associated with providing on-site professional services to customers. Also included in cost of revenue are costs of third party products and other direct sales costs. Costs of third party products and other direct sales costs are recognized when the product or services have been delivered to the customer.

(g) Intangibles –

Intangibles are expensed as incurred. Intangible assets consisting of technology assets, website and eLearning programs are expensed as incurred unless they meet Canadian generally accepted accounting criteria for deferral and subsequent amortization. See Note 4.

Intangible assets are recorded at cost and amortized using straight line method based on the expected useful life. The normal annual rate is 33%.

(h) Leases –

Leases are classified as either capital or operating leases. A lease that transfers substantially all of the benefits and risks incidental to the ownership of property is classified as a capital lease. All other leases are accounted for as operating leases wherein rental payments are expensed as incurred. At the inception of a capital lease, an asset and an obligation is recorded at an amount equal to the lesser of the present value of the future minimum lease payments and the property's fair value.

(i) Foreign Currency Translation –

Amounts in foreign currencies are translated into Canadian dollars as follows:

(i) The Company

- a) Transactions are translated at the approximate rate of exchange prevailing at the time of the transaction;
- b) Monetary assets and liabilities at the year-end exchange rate; and
- c) Exchange gains and losses are included in earnings.

(i) Foreign Currency Translation (Continued) -

(ii) Emergeo Solutions (US) Inc.

- a) Monetary assets and liabilities at the rate in effect at the balance sheet;
- b) Non-monetary assets and liabilities and capital stock at the rate in effect on the transaction date;
- c) Revenue and expenses at the average rates as the revenues are earned and expenses are incurred; and
- d) Gains and losses arising on translation have been recognized in the consolidated statements of operations and deficit.

(j) Stock-based Compensation -

The Company has a stock-based compensation plan which is described in note 7(d). The Company accounts for all stock-based payments and awards under the fair value based method.

Under the fair value based method, stock-based payments to non-employees are measured at the fair value of the consideration received, or the fair value of the equity instruments issued, or liabilities incurred, whichever is more reliably measurable. The fair value of stock-based payments to non-employees is periodically re-measured until counterparty performance is complete, and any change therein is recognized over the vesting period of the award and in the same manner as if the Company had paid cash instead of paying with or using equity instruments.

The cost of stock-based payments to non-employees that are fully vested and non-forfeitable at the grant date is measured and recognized at that date.

Compensation cost attributable to awards to employees is measured at fair value at the grant date and recognized over the vesting period. Compensation cost attributable to awards to employees that call for settlement in cash or other assets is measured at intrinsic value and recognized over the vesting period. Changes in intrinsic value between the grant date and the measurement date result in a change in the measure of compensation cost. Compensation cost is generally recognized on a straight-line basis over the vesting period.

During the period ended September 30, 2008, the Company granted stock options to directors and officers as set out in note 7(d).

2. Significant account policies: (Continued)

(k) Earnings (loss) per Share -

The Company uses the treasury stock method to compute the dilutive effect of options, warrants and similar instruments. Under this method, the dilutive effect on earnings (loss) per share is recognized on the use of the proceeds that could be obtained upon exercise of options, warrants and similar instruments. It assumes that the proceeds would be used to purchase common shares at the average market price during the period. For the six months ended September 30, 2008, the calculation proved to be anti-dilutive.

Basic earnings (loss) per share is calculated using the weighted-average number of shares outstanding during the period.

(l) Use of Estimates -

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with Canadian generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. These estimates are reviewed periodically, and, as adjustments become necessary, they are reported in earnings in the period in which they became known. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(m) Future income taxes -

Income taxes are accounted for by the asset and liability method. Under this method, future income taxes are recognized for the future income tax consequences attributable to differences between carrying value and their respective income tax basis (temporary differences). Future income tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted income tax rates expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on future income tax assets and liabilities of a change in income tax rates is included in income in the period in which the change occurs. The amount of future income tax asset recognized is limited to the amount that is more likely than not to be realized.

(n) Comparative figures -

Certain comparative figures have been reclassified to conform to the presentation adopted in the current period.

5. Reverse takeover (“RTO”) of EmerGeo Solutions Inc.:

Pursuant to a Share Exchange Agreement dated February 15, 2008 with EmerGeo Solutions and its shareholders, the Company acquired all of the issued and outstanding shares of EmerGeo Solutions in exchange for the issuance of 6,000,000 common shares of the Company. In addition, the Company issued 300,000 common shares as finder’s fee with respect to the acquisition.

The 6,300,000 common shares are subject to a Value Security Escrow Agreement and will be released from escrow over a period of three years in accordance with the policies of the Exchange. The release of the escrowed shares and finder’s fee shares is subject to certain assumptions being met as set forth in a valuation report of Evans & Evans dated January 29, 2008. These assumptions include no undisclosed contingent liabilities and no significant variation between the management-prepared financial statements upon which the valuation was based and final audited financial statements.

As the transaction, which was completed on May 2, 2008, was a capital transaction in substance for EmerGeo Solutions, the transaction was accounted for as a reverse takeover using the purchase method with EmerGeo Solutions as the acquirer. The amounts assigned to the assets and liabilities purchased are based on the account balances as at April 30, 2008 (there being no material transactions between April 30, 2008 and May 2, 2008) as the estimated fair value of the net assets of the Company, as follows:
